Mediacrest

We are an audiovisual production company based in Barcelona and Madrid, created at the end of 2018 and with a clear aim in mind: to do things differently, putting people first, on both sides of the screen.

Right from the beginning our sights have been set on the international market, working to the highest standards of creativity, quality and agility, ensuring our products have a global dimension, but also developing content for a national audience.

Canary Islands Film

The Canary Islands are currently positioned as one of the best film shooting destinations in the world, offering unbeatable tax incentives (50%-45% direct deduction). In addition, the Archipelago offers a wide range of incredibly beautiful and diverse locations within a few kilometres from one another, more than 3,000 hours of sunlight per year and mild climate year-round. As a leading tourist destination, the islands have top hotel infrastructure and excellent air and sea connections, besides something that is currently most appreciated: safety.
